Nutrisens and Matatie are joining forces to offer innovative solutions for people suffering from allergies and intolerances

Lyon, April 16, 2025

Nutrisens announces its strategic investment in the French startup Matatie, a specialist in allergen-free food products. This collaboration reflects the shared commitment of Nutrisens and Matatie to improving the range of options available for people suffering from food allergies and intolerances.

Founded in 2017, Matatie has established itself as a key player in the allergen-free market by offering safe, high-quality food alternatives for people with allergies and intolerances across Europe. With its innovation-driven approach and mastery of production — the company owns a dedicated allergen-free production facility in the Paris region — Matatie has developed an innovative range of products free from the 14 major allergens, while ensuring optimal taste and nutritional quality.

For its part, Nutrisens has been committed for several years to developing solutions tailored to the specific needs of vulnerable individuals.

Through this investment, Nutrisens and Matatie will be able to jointly develop even more effective solutions, raise awareness about food allergy issues, and expand their distribution network.

"This partnership will allow us to go even further in our shared mission: meeting the needs of people with allergies and intolerances in all aspects of their daily lives," says Tiphaine Bordier, Founder and President of Matatie.

"We are convinced that this collaboration will enable us to have a greater impact and provide concrete solutions to the everyday challenges faced by people affected by allergies and intolerances," says Céline Bugnot, Managing Director France at Nutrisens.
